The Three Preachers.

There are three preachers, ever preaching,

Each with eloquence and power;

"Backwards, ye presumptuous nations,

Born to drudge, and sweat and suffer-

Priests and Kings are God's Vicegerents,

One is old, with locks of white.

And he preaches every hour

And a Bigot's fiery scorn ;

Man to misery is born !

Born to lobor and to pray;

Man must worship and obey.

Back, be humble and obey !"

The second is a milder preacher, Soft he talks as if he sung ;

Sleek and slothful in his look,

With an air of self-content,

And his words, as from a book,

Issue glibly from his tongue

High he lifts his fair white hands-

"Stand ye still, ye restless nations,

And be happy all ye lands !

Earth was made by One Almighty,

Change is rash, and ever was so-

And to medel is to mar,

We are happy as we are;

And be happy as ye are."

Stand ye still, ye restless nations,

Mightier as the younger preacher-

And the crowds who here his voice,

Give him whilst their souls rejoice,

Throbbing bosoms for replies;

While his stirring accents fall,

Man was made for healthful effort;

Tyranny has crushed him long-

He shall march from good to better,

Nor be patient under wrong;

And do battle with the wrong.

Forward ! ye awakened nations,

Standing still is childish folly,

None should patiently endure

Any ill that he can cure-

Going backward is a crime;

Onward, while a wrong remains

While Opporession lifts a finger

To affront us by his might;

While an error clouds the season,

While a slave awaits his freedom,

Forward ! ye awakened nations !

Onward ! there are ills to cenquer,

And enfrauchisment for thought.

May be conqured if you try;

Vice and Wretchedness and Famine,

Onward I onward ! and subdue them !

Root them out, their day has passed :

Ills that on yourselves you've brought,

Action is the people's part.

There is wisdom to discern,

Hopless Poverty and Toil,

Give Beneficence the lie,

Goodness is alone immortal-

Forward, ye awakened people,

Evil was not made to last.

And your sorrow shall not last."

And the preaching of this preacher

Into darkness have been hurl'd ;

Onward preacher—onward yet !

There are hearts that burn to aid you,

There are arms to hour of need. Onward, preacher, coward, nations With most ripen into Dunp.

There are pens to tell your progress, There are eyes that pine to read ;

And the Right and Wrong have met,

Stirs the pulses of the world,

Tyranny has curbed its pride;

To decide their ancient quarrel.

Errors that were deified,

Slavery and Liberty,

There is temperance to learn,

Action is the wise man's part-

While a serrow gnaws the heart,

Onward I keep the march of time,

To be conquered by the right-

Awed thy listen, yet elated,

"Forward, ye deluded nations,

Progress is the rule of all !

Genius fiashes from his eyes,

Backwards, ye prsumptuous nations-

Skinny as an anchorite;

With a shrill fanatic voice.

And thus things stood until Fred his patience all exhausted, his equanimity all destroyed, and made perfectly desperate by a long separation, resolved to visit Undine at her home, to storm the castle, force the governor to terms, and carry, off the prize. So ore bright afternoon, he alighted at the door of the paternal mansion and was introduced to the proprietor, who received him in a manner which said plainly enough : -"Politeness wont allow me to shut the doors in your face without some 'overt act' on your part, but, mind you, I am not going to have any courting going on here."
